

The 2011 National Health Law Summit

The Canadian Bar Association's National Health Law Section is pleased to present the third installment of this informative and dynamic program. In interactive forums, esteemed representatives of the bench, leading legal practitioners and industry experts, will share and debate some of the most significant legal, ethical and clinical issues in health law today, including:

- Addressing disruptive behaviour in a health care setting
- New trends and decisions concerning the assessment of damages in personal injury cases
- Advising patients and clients on the challenges posed by advocacy on behalf of those with mental illness
- Promoting a just culture of patient safety by removing legal barriers to disclosure, reporting, and quality improvement following an adverse event
- The pros and cons of recent judicial initiatives to impose joint expertise or limit the number of experts
- Coast-to-coast update on the latest trends and developments in health law.

Don't miss this unique opportunity to hear nationally-recognized experts in various fields of health law share their experiences and thoughts on the issues that matter most to your clients. The summit will also feature a special invitation-only cocktail reception at the newly-renovated Court of Appeal, followed by dinner at a near-by restaurant in the heart of old Montreal.
